Solar powered smiles

When Jeremy called for a chat about installing Solar Panels, he'd already been thinking about them for a while, but had held back on concerns of "cowboy installers" and worries about being ripped off.

Eco Concierge were happy to help, having recently installed panels on a boat, the simplicity of this roof was a relief! After arranging 2 further providers to give a free survey along with one of Eco Concierges' tried and trusted suppliers, Jeremy said it was an easy choice.

Our recommended supplier provided equipment that generated more electricity per square metre, squeezed more of it onto the roof, and combined it with an inverter that switched on earlier and off later, meaning more time spent generating electricity and income for Jeremy. Job Done.

Jeremys' new Solar :

Currently saving 85% on electricity,
and 50% on gas.

Predicted to generate £46k return over
25 years.

Jeremy: "With so many companies offering Solar (both PV and Thermal) systems, knowing who to choose was daunting. Eco Concierge really helped us by putting us in touch with a trustworthy, local, company which was able to fit state-of-the-art equipment at a good price. Installation took a week (we had both PV and Thermal) and went smoothly. I'm very impressed with the system".
