

One day MASTER CLASS in Employee Engagement

'Working together sustainably'

According to Ethical Corporation every 'engaged' employee is worth £2,500 a year in additional profit. But successful engagement – that will enhance operational efficiency, retain staff and generate innovative new ideas – requires effective strategic approaches.

What it looks like:

- > 1 day master class delivered on your premises
- > Targeting an inter-disciplinary audience of sustainability, communications and strategy professionals within your company
- > Mixture of strategic development and practical coaching
- > Personalised and accessible follow-up
- > Eco Concierge employee engagement toolkit to allow you to move effectively from training to application

An invaluable course for anyone looking to enhance sustainable behaviours in the workplace. By attending, you will be able to apply proven strategic approaches to increase the level and value of employee engagement.

Benefits of attending:

Eco Concierge has a proven track record of motivating actual change. Our knowledge and experience of sustainability is unparalleled and our service is systematically researched and designed to deliver.

The master class, accompanying toolkit and follow-up support will ensure you have the right tools to engage your workforce, and facilitate lasting internal relationships.

We go beyond awareness and information sharing to address the key barriers to change, offering a 'just right' service that will support and embed actual change in your organisation.

Learn the varied and nuanced methods of measuring employee engagement.

What people are saying:

"Eco Concierge's workshop gave people the opportunity to talk about what sustainability means for them and how it applies to their role. I really enjoyed it." Jim Craig, Director, greengauges

"Eco Concierge has helped to boost our employee engagement efforts. Their approach is transformative." Cliff Hilton, Environment & Sustainability Manager EMEA, The Oracle Corporation

"Eco Concierge is an exciting new presence in the market. They have a great offer that will be increasingly important in the move towards a low carbon future." Helen Murley, former Corporate Responsibility and Environment Director, BAA Ltd

Get in touch to discuss how we can help you:

Tel 0208 1232575 or 07505 480903

Email info@ecoconcierge.org

www.ecoconcierge.org

ecoconcierge
live lighter